Discover your Family's History with a Leader in Genealogy

On October 12th and 13th, the Iowa Genealogical Society will be hosting its annual Fall Conference, in cooperation with the State Historical Society of Iowa. Lisa Louise Cooke is this year's spotlight speaker and you won't want to miss her! Her videos, articles, podcasts and books have a huge following in the area of genealogy.

Held at the State Historical Society of Iowa in Des Moines, hear Lisa uncover the basics along with new trends in genealogy. She'll present topics like, "How to Organize All This Genealogy Stuff", "Google Earth for Genealogy" and so much more. You'll also have the chance to network with others, participate in customized break-out sessions and could win some great door prizes. Join the Iowa Genealogical Society where you can learn how to "Unearth Your Roots" of ancestry.

Registration available for 1 or both days. The event will be held at the State Historical Society of Iowa, located at 600 East Locust Street in Des Moines' East Village neighborhood. Presentations start at 9:00 AM each day and run through the afternoon. Lunch included each day.

Remember to register before September 29 to take advantage of early bird pricing. Get more details and register today at the Iowa Genealogical Society website found at www.iowagenealogy.org or call 515-276-0287.
